

Setting description

- Describe what the character can see and hear as she walks through the rainforest – (e.g. animals, birds, trees etc)
- Think about what the creatures are doing. What they look like.
- How does the character feel when she sees them? How does she react?
- Does the rainforest change as she moves around further? (Does it get denser? Does she find the river?)

Setting description

- Describe what the character can see and hear as she walks through the rainforest – (e.g. animals, birds, trees etc)
- Think about what the creatures are doing. What they look like.
- How does the character feel when she sees them? How does she react?
- Does the rainforest change as she moves around further? (Does it get denser? Does she find the river?)

Setting description

- Describe what the character can see and hear as she walks through the rainforest – (e.g. animals, birds, trees etc)
- Think about what the creatures are doing. What they look like.
- How does the character feel when she sees them? How does she react?
- Does the rainforest change as she moves around further? (Does it get denser? Does she find the river?)

Setting description

- Describe what the character can see and hear as she walks through the rainforest – (e.g. animals, birds, trees etc)
- Think about what the creatures are doing. What they look like.
- How does the character feel when she sees them? How does she react?
- Does the rainforest change as she moves around further? (Does it get denser? Does she find the river?)