DAILY NEWS

Please continue to log-on to Espresso each day and watch the 60 second Daily News. Please discuss this with your parents.

Science

Last week you looked at mixtures of solids and solids and liquids. This week we are going to look at dissolving and, using materials we can find at home, after asking our parents first, look at which form a solution and which form a suspension or other mixture.

Please follow the slides found on the remote learning site detailing what we are going to do and use the resources to influence your investigations.

Don't forget to write up your findings, in a way you see appropriate, in your remote learning books. The resources are just for an idea. Release your inner scientist and show me what you can do.

History

Our topic this half term is Vikings and Anglo Saxons. This week we are going to be investigating and using the language used, in particular, by the Vikings but also used by the Saxons. By the Viking age, the writing system was called the Younger Futhark which consisted of 24 sounds. We are going to look at and use a runic alphabet that uses 28 characters. These were used to stamp authority of ownership. Before we begin the tasks this week I have a number of short videos for you to watch before looking at a PowerPoint presentation which includes your tasks. Please watch,

Task One

Can you write your name using the runes in the PowerPoint before writing a secret message to your teacher to decode?

Task Two

On the last slide of the PowerPoint presentation you will find a map from 'The Desolation of Smaug'. Can you translate, carefully, the message needed by Bilbo Baggins for his important mission?
